Carter, a well-to-do farmer living four miles north of the village, committed suicide by shooting himself in the left breast with a Winchester rifle at 8 o'clock this morning. DETROIT IS THREATENED.

DETROIT, June 10.—Prince Michael has issued the following from the county jail, where he is detained, charged with the most heinous crimes in the calendar: "To Sheriff Hanley: Thus saith the Lord of Hosts: Woe! woe! woe! to the people and city of Detroit if my people are not liberated and made free by the eleventh hour on Saturday noon. I will withhold my avenging hand no longer, and the judgments shall fall thick and fast; for those whom I justify let no man condemn. I am the Lord your God, that caused this to be written and given to thee."

NEW LAW POINT SETTLED.

LANSING, June 10.—The supreme court today settled a point in law which is entirely new in this country. It was in case of James B. Seager et al., heirs of Schuyler F. Seager. Certain mineral lands belonging to the estate of Schuyler F. Seager had been leased for the sum of $2,800. When the widow claimed dower thereon a friendly suit was brought in the Ingham circuit as a test case and carried to the supreme court. The opinion written by Justice McCreath and concurred in by the other justices holds that the widow is entitled to dower as claimed.

SALOONKEEPERS UNITE.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 10.—The local saloonkeepers have banded themselves together for self-protection. They contend that they have a right to clean out their places before 7 o'clock in the morning. Marshal Hare objects and is backed by the council committee on police matters. The dealers propose to take the first case to the supreme court for settlement.

PREPARED FOR RIFLING.

MARQUETTE, Mich., June 10.—Com-G of the Fifth regiment, M. S. T., has just received orders from Colonel Lyon to be in readiness to answer promptly a call from the sheriff of Houghton county. The strikers at the Osceola mine, near Red Jacket, resumed violent demonstrations this morning, and the sheriff may be unable to restore order without the assistance of the state troops.

A LITTLE GIRL'S RAG BABY.

It Proves a Big Factor in Raising Funds for a Church.

Dolls are usually considered about the cheapest articles in the juvenile feminine equipment, and while it is true that many a little miss owns dolls, each of which cost as much as the entire wardrobe of some of the living children of those less favored with this world's goods, these are but the exceptions to the general rule. The most primitive form of doll perhaps is the rag baby, that indescribable something constructed from the tatters of the household. There is one thing, however, about the rag doll which cannot fail to excite admiration. Let her be put among ever so many handsomer sisters, she is certain to hold the warmest place in the regard of the common mamma, be she the child of rich or poor parents. But the rag doll has until recently never done anything to make her famous.

LYDIA E. BYRNES, a name famous. The finely dressed French baby—besheathed and bejeweled on numerous occasions figured prominently in voting contests and on radio lists at fairs, but it remained for little Lydia Edna Byrnes, of Brooklyn, a child not yet four years old, to rescue the much abused rag doll from the oblivion to which she has been so long and so unjustly consigned and make her a prominent factor in financial circles. And it all came about in this way:

Lydia owned but one doll, and it was made of rags, a nondescript sort of baby with a particularly "open" expression of countenance, but evidently lacking in force of character and cohesiveness. Lydia's father, Rev. Horace W. Byrnes, the new pastor of an old church in Brooklyn, had been designated as the Epworth M. E. church. Mr. Byrnes was confronted with the serious task of raising the funds necessary for the erection of a new church, and one morning at breakfast discussed the matter with his good wife, when it was determined that the work should begin at once. Little three-year-old Lydia Edna sat at the table looking as wise as an owl and evidently cogitating deeply. Then she offered her baby—the rag doll—as her contribution toward the new church. Every one laughed, said the child was cute and then thought no more of the matter.

Not so, however, with Lydia. When she went to church dolly was with her, and when her father spoke to his congregation of the necessity of raising funds at once and the full succeeding the first few subscriptions had arrived, as it always does on such occasions.

Lydia got out of her pew before any one could stay her, and walking demurely down the aisle handed to the minister her rag dolly—her all as her free will offering. Immediate success.

THE DOLL. The bodies of John Hurley and W. F. Robinson have been recovered from the Detroit river, where they both met their death on the fatal Saturday night, May 28, in the collision between the steamer City of Mackinac and the tug Washburn.

C. C. HANLEY, late of Company K, First Michigan cavalry, died suddenly at Hartford. Death was caused by the breaking of an abscess in his lungs, near an old gunshot wound. He had carried a rebel bullet for twenty-seven years.

DR. DAVIS WAS RIGHT.

Twenty-Seventh Meeting of the State (Allopathic) Medical Society.

Dr. Davis of Chicago Strongly Denounces the Use of Stimulants and Narcotics.

INCONSISTENCIES OF THE ALLOPATHIC TREATMENT

Reports of the Doings of the Michigan (allopathic) State Medical Society at Their Annual Meeting in Flint, Mich., Taken from the Detroit Free Press, with Additions, Digressions and Remarks by the Author of Them

"After the Mayor's address President Ranney introduced the venerable Dr. N. S. Davis of Chicago, distinguished medical author and the founder of the American Medical Association and ex-President of the International Medical Congress. (See Detroit Free Press, May 6, third page, first column.)

"Dr. Davis spoke for several minutes in a general way, and dwelt upon the advantage of making use of every minute's time during the convention."

"Dr. Davis of Chicago read an interesting and instructive paper upon 'Therapeutic Inconsistencies in Medical Practice,' in which he advised the total tabooring of stimulants and narcotics in all diseases, claiming that the bad effects of them more than equaled the seeming betterment of a patient's condition immediately after their use.

Dr. Davis was roundly applauded for his scholarly and pointed way of handling his topic."

A DIGRESSION—THE PICKPOCKETS HAVE IT.

How nice it would sound if 400 professional pickpockets should meet in a large hall and the oldest of their number (and too old to pick pockets with safety) should get up and say:

"Gentlemen, it is very wrong to pick pockets," and the others say with one voice:

"Yes, it is very wrong."

Old Member—"It is very wicked to pick pockets, gentlemen."

Chorus from the Others—"Yes, it is very wicked, to be sure."

Old Member—"It is against the financial condition of those whose pockets we pick, gentlemen."

Chorus Other Members—"Yes, it is; that is a fact."

Old Member—"Gentlemen, I am overpowered with the brilliant idea that it becomes very inconvenient sometimes to those whose pockets we pick."

Chorus, Other Members—"Yes, it is quite inconvenient sometimes."

Then loud cheers, great applause, as the whole nest of thieves are greatly amused at the pointed manner in which the Old One puts it.

They then adjourn to pick pockets as before.

But to resume.

We are somewhat surprised at the principles he advocates, but is not Dr. Davis a plagiarist?

Has he not, at this late date, after Dr. S. Clay Todd, the famous specialist of Grand Rapids, Mich., has published the same ideas for thirty years, just now undertaken to gain a free advertisement, by lecturing before this medical society, against the use of stimulants and narcotics?

The public will find the same ideas in Dr. S. Clay Todd's advertisement for thirty years, and they have just been discovered by Dr. Davis, who has possibly been reading the Grand Rapids Herald since he arrived in Michigan.

But it will be of no use to anyone but Dr. Davis. He can make what capital he can of it, by making the public believe he is a follower of Dr. S. Clay Todd, and in no relation in principle or practice to his allopathic brethren; but his associates, the allopathic physicians, although they loudly applauded his remarks, cannot carry out his precepts, and do not intend to, as they could not practice an hour without the use of stimulants and narcotics, both.

Take them away and the Allopathists, or Regulars, as they call themselves, have nothing left; they would have to go out of business at once.

Stimulants and narcotics are the curse of the Allopathic practice and show their effects on almost all their patients, and talking against them will not deceive the public.

The fact is the Allopathic Practice is suffering from a rapid decline in the confidence of the dear people, and needs bolstering with some good talk and some decent principles, but simply trying to catch on to the coat-tail of Dr. S. Clay Todd will not, alone, put them in a position to cure diseases, which is what the public demands in a physician.

Dr. Davis leaves his associates in the same situation that Col. Bob Ingersoll does his hearers. Col. Bob tells them how they can escape religion, but gives them nothing to take the place of it.

The medicines are shipped directly to Dr. Clay Todd from the countries where they grow and are compounded and dispensed by him
